Profits of Corporations Soar, Public Pays Taxes

Manufacturers Take Two Dollars for Every
One Paid to United States Government,
Says Basil M. Manly.

How gently Congress and the Federal executive officers have dealt with American profits is strikingly shown by a computation of the profits of representative corporations after the payment of war taxes, just made by Eastman, Dillon & Co., a conservative banking firm.

These calculations, which cover forty-five diversified American corporations, show after the payment of all war taxes, the average net profits will equal 2.5 per cent. Before war taxes are deducted the average earnings are 2.7 per cent.

The figures go a long way toward explaining the high cost of living in the United States, as they do not include any companies which manufacture munitions exclusively, but relate principally to products purchased by private consumers.

The 2.5 per cent net profit after war taxes is calculated on the basis of the quoted value of the corporate securities in December, 1916, when the stock market was at the height of its war boom. No attempt is made to arrive at the profit on the actual capital invested.

It is clear, therefore, that the profits of these representative corporations for this first year of the war will equal at least 40 per cent of the actual capital invested by stockholders.

These exorbitantly high profits are not only in a considerable measure responsible for the high cost of living, but they are even more directly responsible for the high cost of war. It is quite true that these corporations are paying large amounts of

BELGIAN ORPHANS IN CARE OF RED CROSS

First Group of 500 Each Reach Allies' Territory.

The American Red Cross is assisting in the care of the Belgian orphans who, carried captive into Germany, are now being released by the Germans. The first group of 500 have just been received into the allies' territory, where they will receive the best possible care from the American Red Cross.

The return of the first liberated orphan prisoners is reported in a cablegram from the American Red Cross commission in France.

"The Red Cross is aiding the work of the Queen of the Belgians for the children of her country. Thousands of under-nourished, sick and orphan children are in Belgium today, and a home and care must be provided for them. The Germans are willing to allow some of these children to be sent out of the country.

"Twenty miles from Limoges, in the southern center of France, stands the famous monastery of La Grande Chartreuse, unoccupied at present. Permission was given to use this place for the Belgian children, and it was rented from the government by the Red Cross.

"On October 15 the first 500 little Belgian boys and girls between 4 and 13 years old arrived after their long trip through Germany, and a week later 50 more, all collected by the Committee de Secours National de Belgique, in this wonderful old monastery the Red Cross hopes to bring back to life and vigor these children, in whom lies the hope of Belgium."

OVERCOME BY GAS, DIES IN HOSPITAL

After an illness of four years, Dr. Edwin W. Baer, a dentist, 620 Eye street northwest, is dead today at the emergency hospital, after being taken on his gas flooded room yesterday morning at 8 o'clock. His family, and the police, regard his death as accidental.

Baer was a graduate of George Washington Dental College, and had practiced in Washington for the past twenty years. He was thirty-seven years of age.

He is survived by his widow, father, Mrs. E. Baer, and a brother, Frank Baer.

WILSON GIVES $100 TO Y. M. C. A. WAR WORK FUND

Total Contributions Reach $65,990; District's Quota of $150,000 in Sight.

Foreigners Praise War Work of Y. M. C. A.

J. Allen Baker, member of the British Parliament:

"The Y. M. C. A. is one of the most helpful and stimulating forces making for the success of the war for the great cause in which we now are fighting."

Serjt. W. M. Bristow, Royal Army Medical Corps:

"The British soldier has come to regard the Y. M. C. A. as a necessity of life. That is why we are glad to see it taken up in America in a businesslike way."

Signaler P. C. House, London Regiment, British Army:

"When you are all 'fed up' after dreary, dirty, exhausting hours in the trenches you come out, and your first thought, no matter how old you are, is that you would like to go home to mother, but you can't. So you go to a Y. M. C. A. hut."

President Wilson last night sent his check for $100 to the Washington campaign for the Y. M. C. A. war work fund.

Mrs. John Maynard Harlan forwarded a contribution of $20, which, she stated, had been collected by her English nurse maid among other maids in parks.

The Washington Steel and Ordnance Company added $2,500 to a similar amount previously contributed, bringing its total contribution to $5,000, the largest single sum so far received.

$65,990 Subscribed.
Yesterday's total contributions were $12,451, bringing the Washington total to date to $65,990 of the Capital's $150,000 allotment.

"Those who have given have been most generous; the contributions have been gratifying for their large amounts, but there have been too few individual contributors," said Corcoran Thom, chairman of the campaign committee, last night.

The team of Charles Henry Butler still has the largest figure of total subscribers, though the team of Charles P. Light leads in the number of contributors obtained. It was through Huston Thompson, Assistant Attorney General, a member of Mr. Light's team, that the President sent his contribution, expressing "best wishes for the success of the campaign."

Team records yesterday follow: John Poole, $2,500; Butler, $2,500; Julius I. Poyser, $25; Mrs. Richard Whitney, $50; William A. Rawlings, $30; Mr. Light, $1,454; a newly organized Y. M. C. A. team, $22; C. V. Wheeler, $35; Mrs. Hildebrand, $20; Board of Trade, $20; Boys' Department, $30.

J. Allen Baker, member of the House of Commons, said:

"I believe this Y. M. C. A. work to be among the most important activities in the conduct of the war. The fellowship, camaraderie, and feeling engendered by the Y. M. C. A. workers are among the most delightful things reported from the front. Men are eager to get the advice and counsel of Y. M. C. A. workers, and they are hereby given spirit and fortitude for their tasks."

"I believe the work being done by the Y. M. C. A. in training camps also to be of vital importance. Idle hours bring a depression and a temptation which the Y. M. C. A. knows how to counteract."

"Every dollar subscribed to this work is one of the best investments that could be made and probably will do as much toward winning the war as any expenditure that could be made."

Mr. Baker spoke of the significance of the recent invitation to the Y. M. C. A. to work among the Italian army, and of the approval of this invitation by the Papal authorities at Rome.

Tomorrow afternoon the campaign will close with a mass meeting at the Blasco Theater, at 3 o'clock, at which William Howard Taft will be the principal speaker, and the U. S. Marine Band will play.

WHITMAN SAYS KAISER

Lawrence, Mass., Nov. 16.—"This nation is engaged in a death struggle with an autocracy gone mad," Gov. Whitman, of New York, said in an address before a meeting of mill owners of this manufacturing center.

"It is an autocracy," he continued, "subjected to the whims and evil desires of one man, it is led by a mediaeval monarch whose triumph would be the end of democracy."

TRUCE DECLARED TO GET WILSON'S SUFFRAGE VIEWS

Woman's Party Calls Off Picketing to Await President's Message.

An armistice has been declared by the militant suffragettes here "to give the President a chance to decide whether he will urge the federal enfranchisement of women in his message to Congress."

This picketing armistice of the National Woman's Party, which yesterday saw the sentencing of the last of its members arrested in recent demonstrations, has a "joker."

This joker is found in the statement that militancy will not be resumed unless brutal treatment of the two score or more of prisoners, most of them hunger striking, should necessitate forcible protest.

Otherwise the demonstrations are to be held in abeyance until the National Woman's Party finds what the President may say December 3 in his message to Congress concerning women's suffrage.

Up to the President.
If it isn't what they have been picketing for—well, to quote one of the executive committee members:

"Asking for liberty never was a mild and mannerly procedure. What we'll do will depend entirely on the President. We probably won't have to resort to anything more drastic than picketing."

Although thirty-three of the picket prisoners are reported to be hunger striking for special privileges as political offenders, it is not expected generally at militant headquarters that the strike will precipitate another demonstration and abrogation of the truce.

Mrs. Wiley Sentenced.
Mrs. Harvey W. Wiley was one of the thirty-three pickets sentenced yesterday. She got fifteen days. The court was inclined to suspend sentence, but Mrs. Wiley insisted on being treated the same as the other pickets, refusing to be put on probation.

Mrs. William Kent also was sentenced to fifteen days, with the usual alternative of a $25 fine. The money fine had been sent to the court by her husband before she was tried and was paid automatically as soon as she was sentenced, despite her protest.

She will file papers for a new trial to defeat her husband's determination to pay the fine. She insists on going to jail.
